British citizen, full right to work in the UK

PROFILE

Designer with four years across in-house, studio and freelance work, back in London after two years running Finbar Studio from Brisbane. I started in brand, print and motion, and since 2025 I have designed and delivered websites end to end: in Framer, and coded with Claude Code under my direction. Five production sites in 2026, the largest a 2,500-part catalogue for a Porsche specialist that went from first brief to live in five and a half weeks. Looking for a digital or web designer role in London, agency or in-house.

EXPERIENCE

Freelance Designer

Finbar Studio, Brisbane then London

Sep 2024 - Present

Brand, print and web work for direct clients in Australia and the UK, and the only designer on each job: brief, options, build, launch, handover. Five production websites shipped in 2026. I design them and run the build; the code is written with Claude Code, and I review, test and ship it.

- rennenplus.com.au (2026): designed and delivered a car-first parts catalogue for the Australian arm of Fabspeed, TECHART and TracTive, replacing a 1,770-product Shopify store and a quoting spreadsheet. About 2,500 parts across 228 cars, priced live in Australian dollars; I specified the pricing chain and tested it against the owner's own calculator until the two agreed to the dollar. Just over 6,000 pages, 23,000 images, a 45-dealer map, a mobile-first design system and a chat assistant that answers fitment questions from the catalogue. Started 6 August, live 4 September, complete on the 12th for the Porsche Club of Queensland Concours, and now the owner's pricing reference on customer calls.
- Share to Buy (2026, freelance): back with my old in-house team, designing generative AI tools for the business, built with Claude Code: faster social and marketing production, accessible emails, and an interactive booking experience for live events.
- lowsdesignandbuild.com (2026): refined the client's sketches into their mark, then designed and delivered the site in Next.js with a Sanity CMS the family edits themselves, an estimate calculator that turns visitors into named leads, and a launch asset pack for LinkedIn, X and Instagram. Samuel Low: “He has completely transformed our online presence.”
- lola-audio.com (2026): a composer's portfolio built around a mixing-desk interaction with sample-locked faders. When the CMS hit its bandwidth cap streaming video mid-project, I moved the media to Cloudflare R2 and the content to Payload CMS. Lola Stoodley: “reliable, fast and really easy to work with.”
- platedwithissy.com (2026): identity, art direction and a scroll-driven site with a Payload CMS and an Instagram feed. Issy Park: “I'd send him a voice note and it would be live by the evening.”
- KinAya and Momentum Mentoring (2024 to 2025): brand identities, guidelines and six-page Framer sites for two NDIS providers in South Australia, designed and built by me in Framer, including a site-wide text resizer for carers and visitors with low vision. Aryan Sareen, KinAya: “the branding and website genuinely felt like one vision.”

Electrical Trade Assistant

Northstar Power and Control, Brisbane

Jan 2026 - Sep 2026

Fifty hours a week for nine months on one industrial job, alongside the studio: the electrical upgrade of a PVC pipe factory in Acacia Ridge, six extrusion lines in a working warehouse. A crew of two, me and the licensed electrician, ran the whole project on site without a supervisor. The contract holder left it to us because he could: ten-hour days from six, no missed days, no callbacks, and good words from the client along the way. Not my trade, but the studio work above got done in the evenings around it.

Graphic Designer

Packer and Associates, Brisbane

Mar 2024 - Aug 2025

Sole designer at a consulting firm serving infrastructure, healthcare and government clients, reporting to the director. Full time to March 2025, then part-time contract, partly remote.

- Salesmasters sales playbooks: researched, wrote (3,000 to 3,500 words each), designed and print-managed 15+ bespoke 30 to 50 page playbooks over 12 months, about 70 hours each, across five industries. One InDesign system per client brand, a custom Sales Wheel and technique infographics for every book. Every engagement led to another.
- Wrote and designed the firm's twelve-page capability statement, used in tenders and embedded in every email signature.
- Brand identities and guidelines for Stimulá Strategic Consulting and Compass Capability. Two large-scale infographic projects in a month for TasWater, signed off by their leadership. A video edit with voiceover for BHP eLearning.
- Kept the company website, SEO and LinkedIn content moving alongside.

Designer

Share to Buy, London
Sep 2022 - Jan 2024

In-house marketing team at the UK's largest affordable-homeownership platform, reporting to the Marketing Lead. Joined as Junior Designer.

- Designed and produced “The Moment You Realise”, a 30-asset motion and static campaign system in After Effects, six video edits in two visual styles across every format. That December, registrations were up 19.7% year on year (3,417 new registrants) and property enquiries up 3.4%.
- Hand-coded the monthly HTML email to 80,000 subscribers across seven regions: ghost tables, dark mode, ARIA and alt text, tested in Litmus, sent from ActiveCampaign. Click-through held at 3 to 5%.
- London Home Show (4,000 attendees): wayfinding, large-format signage, printed tickets, Metro newspaper ads and the ticket email campaign that set a sales record.
- Built a semi-automated 63-page monthly performance report across seven markets, turned around in a day and a half each month.
